

WILDER SEED BOMBS

Who says planting can't be punk? Seed bombs are the guerilla gardener's weapon of choice for greening up the urban landscape and cultivating a worldwide counter-horticulture. These no-till green grenades have helped turn vacant city lots and neglected public space into havens of wild flowers, birds and butterflies. Now it's your turn to pimp the pavement—or even just your own backyard. Our seed bombs are made of a simple mixture of wild flower seed, organic compost (this acts as a fertilizer) and powdered red clay, and individually hand-packed by us at

WILDER QUARTERLY.

Each seed bomb consists of a mix of perennial, annual and biennial, flowers designed to perform well in all regions of the United States. Exposure to the sun and rain slowly breaks down the seed bomb, allowing the seeds to germinate, grow and thrive.

Contains 10 seed bombs.

INSTRUCTIONS

No need to dig a hole; simply toss and watch grow!

SEEDS

White Yarrow, Blue Pimpernel, Calendula, Siberian Wallflower, Lance-Leaf Coreopsis, Plains Coreopsis, Cosmos, Foxglove, California Poppy, Perennial Gaillardia, Sweet Alyssum, Golden Lupine, Hartweg's Lupine, Perennial Lupine, Arroyo Lupine, Evening Primrose, Red Poppy, Gloriosa Daisy, Scarlet Sage, Blue Sage, Nasturtium, Zinnia

A portion of all sales is donated to the American Community Garden Association.

A MESSAGE IS THE MEDIUM AND WILDER QUARTERLY COLLABORATION

www.wilderquarterly.com